

Alison Tawn

32 year-old Alison Tawn is Managing Director of R<sup>3</sup> Resourcing – a specialist recruitment company which matches mid-to-senior level candidates with retail, leisure and sales clients across the UK.

Headhunted from Michael Page by co-founder and Executive Director of R<sup>3</sup>, Daniel Cornwell, Alison initially took on a Regional Manager role with the company, before moving into her current position. Hugely experienced in the retail sector, Alison's in-depth knowledge – including seven years in management positions with retail giants M&S – has helped R<sup>3</sup> grow to employ over 25 people.

Very driven and determined, Alison has earned the respect of colleagues and clients alike, but it is the absolute and unswerving loyalty of her team which sets her apart from other MDs. Extremely skilled in all aspects of employee relations, Alison is not afraid to introduce revolutionary methods to manage and incentivise her team.

With a husband whom she describes as an “outdoor junkie” it's perhaps not surprising that outside of work Alison can be found hiking up a mountain, skiing or diving – to name but a few activities.

Extremely eloquent, Alison is not afraid to speak her mind and has some strong views on matters of business and employee relations. Her particular areas of expertise include: all aspects of retail, leisure and sales recruitment, people-management, client development, retaining motivating and incentivising employees, and coaching.
